Introduction

The Composite Chart

One and one make more than two, and when two people get together a third party emerges: the couple. As a couple, a team, a dynamic duo, you both become part of something larger that can give you greater power and potential than either has alone. As the two of you become one, a totally new horoscope emerges, called the composite chart, which describes what you have become by linking up, what your special, mutual universe looks like from inside and out. It may be very different than either of you alone, or it may just reinforce you both, but it is what you are together, so embrace it. When you move to a new location, you modify that chart, and your image together and what you can do with it may change significantly. As with your individual charts, you have an inside that doesn't change with a move and an outside that changes with locality. To see if you have the best possible fit in this new place, here's a look at both.

A composite chart shows the midpoints between two charts' planet positions. Horizons uses a new method to allow the relocation of a composite chart. The composite planet positions are placed into the chart of the first person in the composite pair.

Angles in Signs

Ascendant in Cancer

Your new image here is upfront, close, and personal -- which can seem reassuring and caring to some and quite invasive and threatening to others. You'll seem more attuned to the feelings of others, but once you're in the door, be prepared to take responsibility for the space you have invaded. On the opposite side, you yourselves may be a bit more touchy than you think you are.

Midheaven in Aries

You can get tagged as too easily picking a fight here, which comes from taking things too personally and moving too swiftly to protect your interests. On the other hand, if you're looking to get tangled up and personal, this is just the place to be. Whatever is said about you, it is often without second thought, and changes just as easily.

Planets on Angles

Any planet on one of the angles (Ascendant, MC, Descendant, IC) of your relocation chart will be greatly strengthened when you are at the place of relocation, very much like if it were on the angles of your natal chart. If the Sun is on an angle, you'll have more confidence; if Mars is there you'll have more energy, and so on. Moreover, you don't have to actually go there to get the effect. Having a planet on a relocated angle will accentuate that place for you even if you are only doing business with people there over the phone. You have an accentuated quality to people in such places that you may not have elsewhere.

Composite Neptune Sxt DS (Strong)

You're likely to find yourselves running into (or attracting) a pretty dreamy crew here, meaning either rather lofty or totally clueless. Either one works for you, but don't expect too many hard-nose realists to be flocking to your company. You fit nicely down the middle, where possibilities become probabilities.

Neptune in Fourth House

This could be your ideal home together -- or at least that's how you may feel about it, whatever condition it's in. Wherever you live, it's more important to have the right sense of location than exactly the right hardware, at least to begin with. If the inner feeling suits you, the outer trappings will come.

Composite Mercury Tri AS (Strong)

You'll be easily articulate here, and explaining yourselves will come so easily that you won't really have to do much at all. A single glance, and they know you know what you're talking about, so you don't need to go into details. Your actions speak to illustrate what you say, so your appearance together says it all.

Mercury in Ninth House

Together you can find your heads in the clouds here, but when you come back down to earth you'll bring a little bit of the sky with you. By opening your heads to major new approaches, you put yourselves on an unforeseen track that may be hard to write home about. How are you going to find the words? But then, that's the point.

Composite Venus On IC (Strong)

Just sitting around enjoying each other's company on a quiet evening may be one of this place's greatest charms for you. You don't need to go out on the town to have a feast, and you'll have a much better time entertaining at home and bringing the party to you -- if you even need the company at all.

Venus in Fourth House

You'll likely spend a lot of time together here feathering your nest, as both the opportunity and desire for a beautiful place to be is here. When in doubt, spend on yourselves and your surroundings and then share them with others, which will be gift enough in itself. The more opulent your surroundings, the more they will attract to you.

Composite Pluto Tri DS (Medium)

Your faith in your inner creativity and greater vision are an inspiration to yourselves and others here, because it's easy to make it come true by living it. Your beliefs are not judged either by your words or your deeds, but in the way you transmit both and make yourselves a welcome presence in the world.

Pluto in Third House

You can get your day-to-day message out forcefully here, and when it comes to argument the two of you are a force to be reckoned with. If you're coming from inner faith and belief, that will get you everything -- if you're just pushing for an advantage, it will be temporary and ultimately unsatisfying. Only insist if you know you're right.

Composite Saturn Sqr AS (Medium)

You may have to overcome a natural inclination to be too harsh on yourselves here. It's easy to pull out because you haven't enough confidence, and that can be a self-fulfilling prophecy, because it shows. Exercising caution is one thing, but crippling self-doubt is another. Be careful, but go with what you've got.

Saturn in Tenth House

Because you'll appear accomplished, you'll gain respect here, but not for promoting the latest thing. Concentrate on bringing home the benefits of what you've done together already and there will be a market to buy. Too many experiments can get you off-track here, so stick to the tried and true.

Composite Jupiter On MC (Medium)

You're the big broadcast here, and your doings will be spread far and wide, so be aware that they're listening and probably expecting a bit more from you than can be delivered in person at any one appearance. A bigger-than-life reputation is a challenge to live up to, but it's also opportunity knocking more than once.

Jupiter in Ninth House

The sky's the limit here, at least as far as you can conceive it when you're working together. That doesn't mean every dream will come true, but it will be a good starting place for new plans, new directions, bigger and more enthusiastic prospects. That may not be true for each, but it's the chemistry when you're together in this landscape.

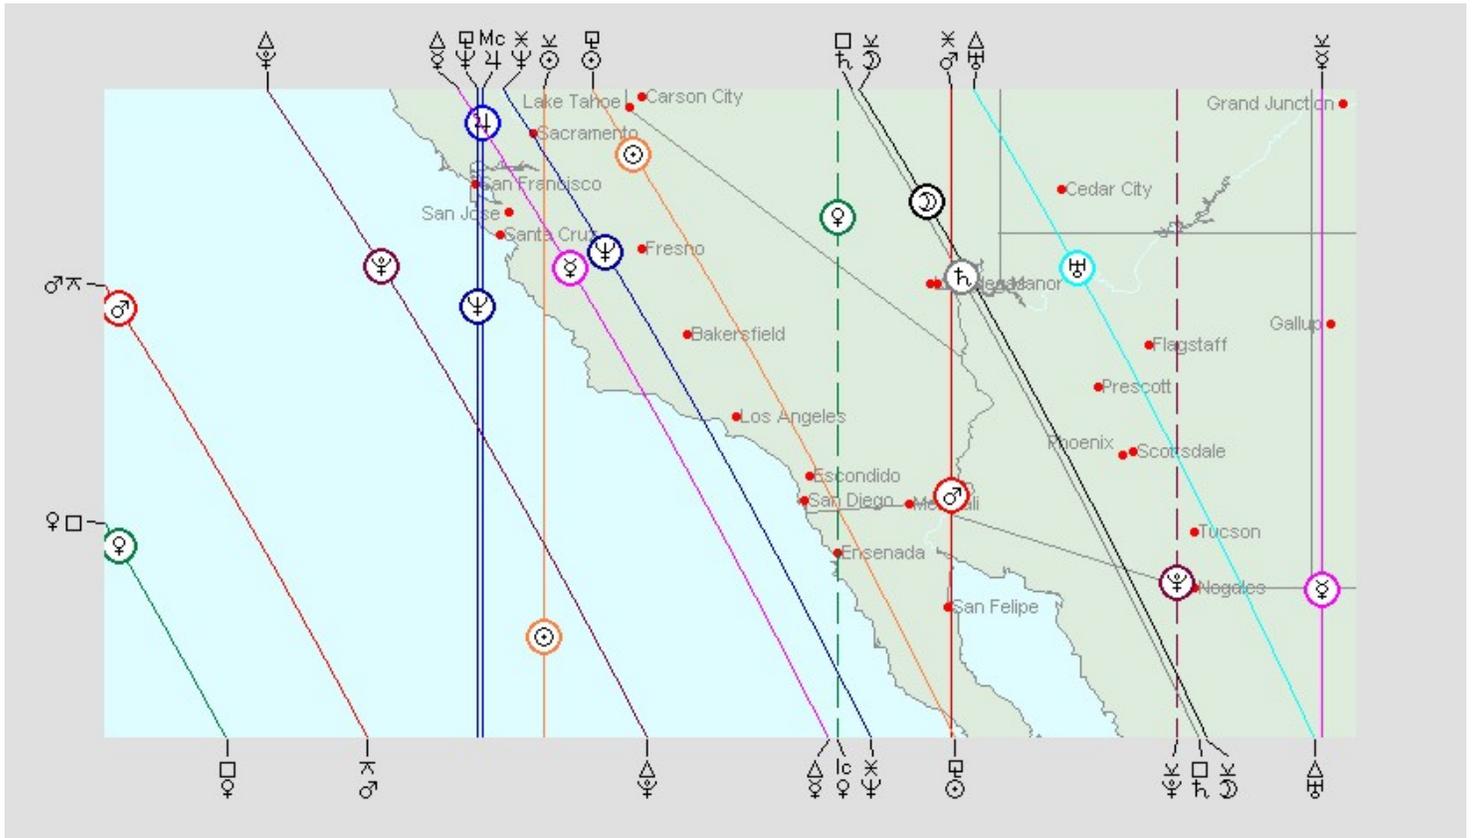

Composite Uranus Tri DS (Mild)

Your innate creativity and problem-solving skills make you in demand here, where you are able to provide new ideas and approaches that haven't been seen around these parts. The key is that you can sell them as ready and acceptable solutions, because they clearly now work for you in your own lives.

Uranus in Third House

You both may find you meet the most unusual people and have the strangest contacts ever here, for no particular reason except that they just show up unannounced. In the same vein, your own approach to getting things across may seem inventive or novel here, so networking should be an interesting, if unpredictable endeavor.
