Chapter 1: Your Personality and Style

Armed with a clear vision, you can see what to do, clear as the hand in front of your face. Happy when managing anything practical, you don't let your emotions get in the way of your objective, businesslike, and reliable goals. Disciplined and tough on yourself as you are on others, you take life as a serious business. You make a great and farsighted provider. Your warmth is not the intermittent gushing of a hot spring but a steady campfire that warms your whole tribe. You don't have time to be trifled with, and chances are Clint (and that rhymes with flint) Eastwood has nothing on you. From you, a word to the wise is sufficient.

[Your Sun is in Capricorn]

You are very communicative, not just a little curious, and like to talk, speak, and write. Study, research, and investigations of all kinds appeal to you. You are always searching out some answer or another. Siblings are especially important, as is your relationship with colleagues in the workplace.

[Your Sun is in the 3rd House]

You are very motivated, with a strong drive and urge to do and achieve. Others could find you a bit pushy. With an eye to progress and the future, you feel compelled to try for what is just out of your reach. You support authority in most, but not all, forms.

[Your Sun is Conjunct Mars]

Expressing yourself and relating to others is not always easy and may tend to get explosive. You could be preoccupied with job and family to the exclusion of a social life. You may have trouble getting your ideas and thoughts across to others.
[Your Sun is Square Ascendant]

Your personality and emotional styles are like eggs all in one basket, so that you find it difficult to see things from other perspectives, often lacking the objectivity to realize how others see a situation. As a result, your goals are quite personally oriented.
[Your Sun is Conjunct Moon]

Chapter 2: Your Feelings and Emotions

Most happy in the most practical of environments, you can manipulate or put every idea or situation to good use. Emotions may not be your main priority, but career is very central. Practical and ambitious, you are farsighted yet traditional, visionary yet close to the ground.
[Your Moon is in Capricorn]

You have a knack for putting the feelings of a group into words and may serve as a teacher or spokesman. Communication is one area where you can always get support and backing from friends and co-workers. Historical studies and ideas may interest you.
[Your Moon is in the 3rd House]

A natural go-between or mediator between the generations, you always manage to see things two ways, understanding both sides of any question. Intense and perhaps somewhat private, but full of new ideas, you have a strong effect on those who come to know you.
[Your Moon is Conjunct Sun]

You have an unusual ability to motivate other people, especially in group efforts. Your enthusiasm and drive is catching, which makes you an ideal teacher or group leader, especially for young people. But sometimes you can push too hard and irritate others.
[Your Moon is Conjunct Mars]

You are a natural disciplinarian, always extracting the most out of people, especially in a group. Your no-nonsense approach, which does not always endear you to others, gets to the heart or meaning of any subject. A natural tendency toward solitude adds to your independence.
[Your Moon is Conjunct Saturn]

Chapter 3: Your Mind and Communication

Fair-minded and above-board, direct and honest in thought, more interested in eternal thoughts and broad landscapes than in details, you get the big picture right away. Your far-sighted, wandering mind loves to travel and is at home with the bare bones of truth, wherever you must go to uncover them.
[Your Mercury is in Sagittarius]

You love to study and question and are always inquiring and searching, using your mind for research. You enjoy communication in all its forms: spoken, written, via computers, video -- you name it. Your mind is active, always testing and searching for limits.

[Your Mercury is in the 3rd House]

You can go out of your way to be clear-minded and practical, taking care to remove every vestige of imagination and dreaminess. This is an attempt to ignore your spiritual and mystical side, which seems to spring up, challenging you at every turn.

[Your Mercury is Opposite Neptune]

You try hard to be clear-headed and stay away from gossip or a tendency to probe and analyze. However, inner psychology (everything secret) challenges and fascinates you -- whether yours or others'.

[Your Mercury is Opposite Pluto]

Your mind is ever on communication, on how you present yourself and how you come across to others, to the group. It is easy for you to express yourself in a crowd; you are a real smoothie. Things always seem to work out for you when you are talking with others.

[Your Mercury is Sextile Ascendant]

Chapter 4: Your Desires and Appetites

You love to work for a great cause or purpose, because a better world is the place to be. You're a friend's friend, powered by mutual consideration. You're happiest in a community while staying somehow apart from it at the same time. Elbow room in a group setting is your description of heaven.

[Your Venus is in Aquarius]

You love your roots, whether they are home and family, ancestors, or history in general. You are probably a collector with a discriminating eye. You appreciate sincere emotions and like to get a firsthand sense or feel for whatever is happening.

[Your Venus is in the 4th House]

A love of the new and unusual enables you to grasp and appreciate new trends and concepts at the very forefront of technology. A very free spirit when it comes to friends, lovers, and tastes, you're in love with what's original, things that break new ground.

[Your Venus is Sextile Uranus]

Chapter 5: Your Energy and Fire

You're a very hard worker, driven to accomplish and manage or to be in control. You like to manipulate a situation for its own benefit, and for the sheer beauty of a well-run machine. A natural supervisor, you have an inner urge for order, organization, and great responsibility. Competent, ambitious, cool, you're nobody's fool.

[Your Mars is in Capricorn]

You have a relentless drive to pursue knowledge, to search, research, and follow out leads and pointers. You are very motivated when it comes to communications of all forms -- phone, voice, letters, or computers -- any medium that can get your message across.

[Your Mars is in the 3rd House]

You are a vital and vigorous person, with a strong will and the strength to achieve your goals. You may also be pushy and force yourself on others, or enjoy pushing others to the side. You take great pride in your achievements and prowess.

[Your Mars is Conjunct Sun]

You are moved to secure yourself, always digging in. Home and family are your main focus, even at the expense of career. It would be good if you could work out of your home. Your emotions conflict with the public; you prefer one-on-one.

[Your Mars is Opposite Midheaven]

You are moved to secure yourself, always digging in. Family and job are your main focus, even at the expense of others. Your emotions tend to conflict with the social and public scene.

[Your Mars is Square Ascendant]

Chapter 6: Your Adventure and Success

Always the philosopher, you are open and friendly, but not too taken with dependent emotions. You'll thrive where you can paint the big picture and spin a convincing yarn. Honest, frank, and to the point, you hate routines and they hate you. The outdoors, travel, sports, and anything big and bully keeps your inspiration alive and makes you an inspiration to others.

[Your Jupiter is in Sagittarius]

Your career or life path may depend on your talent for responding and making something out of ideas, insights -- whatever is new and challenging. The business world may call for your ability to react and build on opportunities. Some make money by hoarding it, you do it by making it reproduce.

[Your Jupiter is in the 2nd House]

Chapter 7: Your Limits and Stability

Difficulty with long-term goals and philosophies means you need to travel and explore the length and breadth of the mind and world. Open up. Learn to value freedom, frankness, and independence, as you may not trust them now. You needn't be nearsighted, nose to grindstone -- look up!

[Your Saturn is in Sagittarius]

You don't waste words, and communications tend to be short and to the point. You are very determined and deliberate when it comes to mental work and would make an excellent researcher or scientist. You concentrate on what is essential.

[Your Saturn is in the 3rd House]

Your more conservative tendencies tend to put a damper on your dreams and deep-seated ideals. You may tend to escape your responsibilities via friends and excursions, mental or otherwise, into the realms of imagination, films, poetry, and the like.

[Your Saturn is Opposite Neptune]

Chapter 8: Your Originality and Ingenuity

New philosophies and ideas for the future featuring new approaches to travel and exploration of all kinds are up your alley. Getting right to the nitty-gritty, bare-bones essence of life may be what it takes to stir your real vision. Long journeys, inside and out, may be just the start. Try being alone, free, and on-the-move to start the fire.

[Your Uranus is in Sagittarius]

You may have unusual ways of responding to what life offers you, with the result that the way you make your living (earn money) is somewhat eccentric. Your means of support may be individualistic, different from the group.

[Your Uranus is in the 2nd House]

You have an excellent sense of rhythm -- music and dance are good outlets for you. Originality and improvisation in art forms are some of your best talents and you should use them. You are also very sexual, but manage to keep it in "good taste."

[Your Uranus is Sextile Venus]

You go out of your way to avoid intense and meaningful conversations, relationships, and such. You rebel against passionate displays of affection and deep, personal probing.

[Your Uranus is Opposite Pluto]

Chapter 9: Your Fantasy and Imagination

Close your eyes and it's there: dream of worldwide communication and networking, with research and science the key. Fantasy and science-fiction flourish. Inspired conversation and every kind of enhanced communication. Connections, ideas, flights of fancy, even telepathy all take wing. Make a piece of it happen.

[Your Neptune is in Gemini]

Your dreams and ideals rest in whatever is pure and true. Philosophy and religion are your escape and refuge from the mundane world. An almost mystical imagination provides you with visions into the world as a community -- a sense of unity, how the universe is really put together, or should be.

[Your Neptune is in the 9th House]

Although you have excellent intuitive and psychic abilities, you are also inclined to sometimes be easily deceived or mistaken in your understanding of others. You seek intuitive, inner understanding with all people you meet.

[Your Neptune is Opposite Mercury]

With your strong needs to feel clear and directed in your spiritual path, you probably feel that a spiritual teacher is very important. Avoiding drugs, alcohol, and other confusing influences will help you attain this clarity.

[Your Neptune is Opposite Saturn]

You are charming and always manage to enchant others with your words and manner.

You bring a sense of the beyond and mystical to any conversation.

[Your Neptune is Trine Ascendant]

Chapter 10: Your Power

A good detective or research person, you're from a generation that established the genre. You can't help but get past all that is superficial. A passion for inquiry, questioning, and searching finds you always in pursuit of some piece of information. Communicating, writing, and speaking are your stock in trade.

[Your Pluto is in Gemini]

You tear through appearances in an effort to get beneath, behind, and at the heart of things. You may find psychology, initiation, mysticism, and the occult of great interest. Intense personal change and inner growth are lifelong habits.

[Your Pluto is in the 8th House]

You have strong views on some subjects and you can express yourself with force and magnetism. With your instinctive ability to reach into the innermost thoughts of others, you can coerce others to agree with your convictions.

[Your Pluto is Opposite Mercury]

Being very sensitive to any authoritarian pressures, you tend to rebel against the "establishment." You find commitment and long-term responsibilities difficult because your need to feel free is so strong.

[Your Pluto is Opposite Uranus]

You always manage to come across as intense and personal when communicating and presenting yourself to others. Others can be fascinated by the way you come on.

[Your Pluto is Trine Ascendant]

Chapter 11: Your Reputation

You may not always play your cards close to your chest, but you likely have the rep of being more careful and savvy than you think you really are. You're also known for taking care of your own, so play parent any time you want to.

[Your Midheaven is in Cancer]

You feel a deep inner need to accomplish tasks of "real" importance. You probably periodically become irritable without realizing that a feeling of not accomplishing something really worthwhile is causing this feeling.

[Your Midheaven is Opposite Mars]

Chapter 12: Your Appearance

You are all things to all people, always responding in a way to please and flatter: a social being. You are so diplomatic and polite that one wonders if you have a viewpoint of your own. You have a natural ability to reflect and mirror others, along with a tendency to readjust everything you suspect is out of alignment.

[Your Ascendant is in Libra]

You are perceptive and witty. You communicate well, being able to aptly phrase ideas so that others can grasp them. You are also receptive to the ideas of others and you do not force your own viewpoint on others.

[Your Ascendant is Sextile Mercury]

You strive for close and active relationships, but probably experience dominance problems. You tire easily of a submissive partner, but then you easily feel dominated by a strong person -- striking the right balance tends to be difficult for you.

[Your Ascendant is Square Mars]

You enjoy sacrificing for others and helping them in times of need. You share your ideals and spiritual attitudes with others in a natural way, without needing to strictly define your beliefs.

[Your Ascendant is Trine Neptune]

You instinctively know how to get your own way with people. You are persuasive, but do not overtly force your way on others. You can be a good coach, director, or teacher. Others find you fascinating, though somewhat mysterious.

[Your Ascendant is Trine Pluto]
