Introduction

Your astrological horoscope (natal chart) at birth is an important key to your personality and character, but your natal chart is not the last word about you. As time moves on after the moment of your birth, the Sun, Moon, and planets continue to circle through the heavens forming ever-changing kaleidoscopic patterns in relation to your own birth chart, bringing out or obscuring this or that part of you.

It can be useful to know how these ongoing planetary patterns relate to your life, and that is what this report is about. Here we calculate the primary astrological changes in your chart and interpret them so that you can see at a glance what is happening at any given time. Your events are arranged and interpreted chronologically, by well-known astrologer Michael Erlewine, and each event includes date and time, keywords, astrological indicator, and an astro-tarot card. We hope you enjoy your forecast.

In the tradition of astrology the planets have always been interpreted separately from the Sun and the Moon, which are called “The Lights,” and for good reason. They literally light up our life and their combined interaction describes the essence of what is happening to us at any given time. Although called “The Moon Report,” any mention of the Moon automatically involves the Sun, and of course, our Earth. These three, the Sun, Moon, and Earth, in their endless interaction are perhaps the single most important factor to observe in astrology.

The ever-changing relationship in the sky between the Sun and the Moon is perhaps most obvious at the Full Moon, but as we know, it is going on all the time. This report tracks the Sun-Moon relationship as it relates to your particular natal horoscope and birth chart, detailing all of the major events that take place in the current month for a specific life area and planet.

The Moon has always represented the ‘mother’, meaning anything that nurtures or cares for us, our support system, however that is made up. It also indicates our emotional makeup, how we feel about things, and the nostalgia of the past - where we came from.

On the other hand, the Sun represents the ‘father’ principle and the future, where we are heading toward and, to some degree, the means we have to get there. The Sun burns brightly, while the Moon is cool and comforting. The two together mark the endless play between the past and the future, and we here on Earth, are caught right in the middle, that is: the present.
Your Saturn Forecast

Saturn is all about organization, control, and discipline, either exercised by ourselves or applied to us externally by some outside power, more or less our choice.

Saturn also represents all of the obstacles and blockage that life seems to place in our path and that we have to find some work-around for. And by association, it stands for the law, the lawmen or women, and any organized force like the military. Saturn is also the walls that make homes possible.

This forecast is about how the planet Saturn figures in your natal chart and what it portends for the immediate future. Saturn is where we are limited and are forced to exercise discipline and control. It is our taskmaster. We hope you enjoy it.
Saturn in your Natal Chart

Before we present your Saturn forecast for the coming months, let’s review how the planet Saturn is configured in your natal or birth chart. What follows is an interpretation of Saturn at your birth to the Sun, Moon, and other planets. It should help to give you a general idea of how you related to matters of discipline and organization. Here goes:

Emotional Plans

You are naturally serious, and you may often find yourself disciplining or controlling your own emotions (or having them controlled for you), as you try to forge ahead in life. You always have meaningful plans, and work to carry them out.

Authoritative Plans

Your authority may at times be questioned and your discipline challenged, not so much by an giant ogre, but more likely by being picked at by petty annoyances. These are to be expected and should be suffered knowingly, for the sake of any real accomplishment you wish to make.

Mental Patience

Getting yourself organized or disciplined, at least mentally, can be frustrated by constant demands for your attention arising from past problems or mistakes. These interruptions are just part of your deal, and need to be graciously handled, if you hope to make real progress.

Building Discipline

You always seem to have the energy to be a little tougher with your appraisals, and to put into practice and build into your life greater economy, whether that means just being more cost-conscious, in general, or something more general, like greater dependability overall, a more disciplined approach, and sense of duty.

Discipline Ideas
You like to entertain questions of self-discipline, of channeling your drive and ambitions, anything to do with building a workable engine.

Saturn
Sesquiquadrate
Jupiter
(Waxing)

Stone Wall
You will naturally have active times, when success is obtained by the use of discipline, the law, lawyers, and the like. These moments, when they come, are excellent times to solve serious problems, and to carve out a path of discipline. You find that pushing hard doesn't get the job done, but flexibility often does.

Stable Cooperation
You naturally will find the right time to work through obstacles, and to bring needed insights and new ideas down to earth and make them practical. Some dues will have to be paid to make these moves forward, so it is best to pay the piper, in this case.

Plans for Change
Your attempts or plans to contain or control deep inner feelings are nothing, if not organized, and you definitely have a method in your madness, a very detailed plan.
Your Saturn Forecast

Now that we have reviewed how Saturn is configured at your birth, let's get to the heart of this report, a forecast as to how Saturn (matters of control and discipline) will play out in the coming months. These are the actual transits that will occur between the Sun, Moon, and other planets in relations to Saturn, laid out in an easy-to-read calendar-like format.

Each event will be described by date, day of the week, and include an interpretation written by astrologer Michael Erlewine about how that event might appear in your life. This includes a brief keyword description, when you can expect this event to be exact, the astrological jargon professional astrologers can read, and even a little tarot-like card image to jump-start your imagination.

By reading through the activity of Saturn forecast in the coming months, you basically have a roadmap of how this planet will manifest its nature and play out in your life. We hope you enjoy your forecast.

Accept Discipline  Moon Sesquiquadrate Saturn (Wan) Transit to Transit
Controlling yourself or being controlled by rules or laws may feel confining. This is your chance to realize what is going on and, to begin to work with the flow, to take charge. No-doubt, obstacles that will arise at this point, but they are mostly the result of a need on your part to adjust your attitude, and learn to be on the receiving end of things, to take as well as to give.

Keep Control  Moon Trine Saturn (Wan) Transit to Transit
Making the best use you can from an experience of being perhaps overly controlled, whether by some law or rules laid upon you. While you can't change the experience, you can choose what to take away from it, and what to ignore from your personal experience. Here the move is to be more conservative, and not so rash or outgoing. Keep back.

Public Control  Moon Square Saturn (Wan) Transit to Transit
Here is a turning point, during which you are moving out and away from what was perhaps a somewhat heavy experience, an experience where you may have felt under the domination of rules or laws, even to the point of being inhibited. This is an ideal point to stop taking it personally, put a different perspective on it, and consider it part of your personal past, and not your future.

Critical Control  Moon Sextile Saturn (Wan) Transit to Transit
Going over and over a heavy experience, one where you may have felt overly controlled or unduly inhibited by rules/laws - whatever the case may have been. The experience should be set in relief now, giving you the vision to see it clearly, detach from it, and be critical of it in a positive way, seeing the good parts and laughing off the parts you won't repeat. The energy should be there to help you, just now.

Depression  Moon Semisquare Saturn (Wan) Transit to Transit
Don't let a hard lesson add insult to injury by hanging on to it. If you feel under pressure or attack, you have the responsibility to just let a lot of it go, to let it pass. You are free to take a new grip on the entire episode.

Core Emotions  Moon Semisextile Saturn (Wan) Transit to Transit
Taking the lessons to heart of a recent experience, where you were held back or down, perhaps unduly inhibited by rules, laws, or circumstances. That is history now, and all that should remain is the essence of what it meant, to be remembered and used to build a better future.

Breaking Down

Your sense of your own self-discipline or a recent awareness related to self-organization or that kind of thing may be dimming, with the result that you find yourself pushing intro problems that only days ago you easily avoided. This is natural, and can be resolved by understanding that you are pushing too hard (not changing with the changes), and just relaxing, learning to let things come to you, rather than you go to them.
