Your astrological horoscope (natal chart) at birth is an important key to your personality and character, but your natal chart is not the last word about you. As time moves on after the moment of your birth, the Sun, Moon, and planets continue to circle through the heavens forming ever-changing kaleidoscopic patterns in relation to your own birth chart, bringing out or obscuring this or that part of you.

It can be useful to know how these ongoing planetary patterns relate to your life, and that is what this report is about. Here we calculate the primary astrological changes in your chart and interpret them so that you can see at a glance what is happening at any given time. Your events are arranged and interpreted chronologically, by well-known astrologer Michael Erlewine, and each event includes date and time, keywords, astrological indicator, and an astro-tarot card. We hope you enjoy your forecast.

In the tradition of astrology the planets have always been interpreted separately from the Sun and the Moon, which are called “The Lights,” and for good reason. They literally light up our life and their combined interaction describes the essence of what is happening to us at any given time. Although called “The Moon Report,” any mention of the Moon automatically involves the Sun, and of course, our Earth. These three, the Sun, Moon, and Earth, in their endless interaction are perhaps the single most important factor to observe in astrology.

The ever-changing relationship in the sky between the Sun and the Moon is perhaps most obvious at the Full Moon, but as we know, it is going on all the time. This report tracks the Sun-Moon relationship as it relates to your particular natal horoscope and birth chart, detailing all of the major events that take place in the current month for a specific life area and planet.

The Moon has always represented the ‘mother’, meaning anything that nurtures or cares for us, our support system, however that is made up. It also indicates our emotional makeup, how we feel about things, and the nostalgia of the past - where we came from.

On the other hand, the Sun represents the ‘father’ principle and the future, where we are heading toward and, to some degree, the means we have to get there. The Sun burns brightly, while the Moon is cool and comforting. The two together mark the endless play between the past and the future, and we here on Earth, are caught right in the middle, that is: the present.
Your Venus Forecast

This forecast reports combines the Sun, Moon, and Earth with one of the traditional planets, in this case the planet Venus, and examines their interplay. The resulting forecasts points out all major activity for the coming time period that involves that planet. Let's take a moment to review some of the traditional meanings for Venus.

Venus is the planet of love and compassion, everything we care about and also how we go about caring. The planet Venus not only relates to questions of romance, but is also all about our values, what we value, and the value of things in our life. This is why Venus is also connected to money, wealth, and all ‘valuables’ - what we value. So Venus also has to do not just with love and appreciation, but also with the appreciation and value of things in general, whether they are gems, antiques, or just plain money.

At the same time, the higher sensitivities of Venus signify care and compassion, the more infinite side of our love. This forecast has to do with how Venus is configured in your natal chart for the immediate future. We hope you enjoy it.
Venus in your Natal Chart

Before we present your Venus forecast for the coming months, let's review how the planet Venus is configured in your natal or birth chart. What follows is an interpretation of Venus at your birth to the Sun, Moon, and other planets. It should help to give you a general idea of how you approach matters of love and values. Here goes:

Planning Stages
Your love of family, children, and the past, in general, naturally tend to organize themselves into plans and schemes that you want to carry out and see implemented. You are very methodical about this sort of thing.

Hidden Love
You naturally respect your elders, those in authority, and anyone with real life experience. You cherish what real experience represents, and you naturally tend to reduce this in your mind to the lessons or essential elements - what can be learned. Getting down to the nitty-gritty is what you do. Using your powers of appraisal, you critically appreciate something, keeping only the seed essence of the matter or experience, and tossing the rest to the wind.

Ideas of Love
You have a natural penchant for thoughts and words of love and a love of thoughts and words, all that is lovely and fine, and the desire to share this with the world.

Let Love In
Things might be just a little wild or turbulent at times in your life, but there is usually a growing awareness then on your part, and possibly even a sense of pride, relating to desire, or something more physical. You like to take control and owning these experiences. You probably enjoy sports, adventure, and sharing these subjects with others. Learning to listen and work with situations may be important.
Teach Success
Life may be somewhat difficult at times, but life experiences should find you getting a better handle on career and success plans, and also bring increased awareness of your feelings about your career, in general, and a sense that you have greater control in these areas. You love your career and any path that leads somewhere, and enjoy sharing this with others.

Change of Direction
There will be times where you will have more awareness of how to get more out of things, be more economical and just plain practical, if not downright frugal. You are, suddenly, a tough appraiser of things and ideas. You may find that being a good listener, and working with a situation is what it takes to get the job done.

Experiencing Freedom
You will have experiences of real independence, freedom, the sheer love of being different or eccentric. Could also refer to times when you are inventive, or appreciate variety or what is different.

Connecting
You always find the perfect times to explore and/or complete, in detail, something inspirational in your life, whether that be as simple as pursuing an interest in movies, music, or film, or something more spiritual. The idea is to finish something already started, rather than to start something new.

Sharing Power
At times you are just naturally more aware of a desire and concern to change yourself or make some transformation, to get into matters of depth and/or vulnerability. Also, you like to communicate these somewhat taboo or sensitive matters to others. Teaching.
Your Venus Forecast

Now that we have reviewed how Venus is configured at your birth, let’s get to the heart of this report, a forecast as to how Venus (matters of love and values) will play out in the coming months. These are the actual transits that will occur between the Sun, Moon, and other planets in relation to Venus, laid out in an easy-to-read calendar-like format.

Each event will be described by date, day of the week, and include an interpretation written by astrologer Michael Erlewine about how that event might appear in your life. This includes a brief keyword description, when you can expect this event to be exact, the astrological jargon professional astrologers can read, and even a little tarot-like card image to jump-start your imagination.

By reading through the activity of Venus forecast in the coming months, you basically have a roadmap of how this planet will manifest its nature and play out in your life. We hope you enjoy your forecast.

Conserve Success
Perhaps a somewhat expansive and easier time, one that brings a chance to evaluate how you feel about your career situation, the path you have taken. You may find yourself tending to draw conclusions in these areas of a more conservative nature. This is definitely not the time to take on extra projects or start new ones. More likely, you will find yourself generally taking stock, and even closing down a few areas that are not productive. Conservation.
Long Suffering
An easier time, now, one with energy, where you should be able to move plans involving your family, caring for younger people, a mothering influence, or perhaps something to do with your past, forward. This could well involve your accepting a less-than-perfect scenario, accepting the facts just as they are, in order to make progress here.

Loving Act
This marks something of a turning point of real change relating to your care for and love of family, younger people in particular, and the past, in general. In some respect, you are now on board and have gotten your point across or made your mark. Something has been achieved or at least started. It can be seen or felt.

Obstacles to Organization
Attempts to cut back, to be frugal, and to be generally more economical meet with some frustration here, some roadblocks. You may have to carefully move around these problems, but do keep going. Now is not the time to give up or to go backward. Onward!

Embodying
This is a good time to work on embodying your love of family, children, or the past, in general, into something real and substantial. It could be supporting the arts, caring for others, or anything to do with strengthening your own internal support network. Moving things forward is appropriate at this time. The energy is there.

Love Challenge
Your love of mother and family and/or of the past, in general, and any attempts to build or strengthen these areas of your life meets with some resistance and has to be renegotiated. Don't be dissuaded. Now is the correct time to firmly move forward and complete or finish some project, not start new ones.

The Key to Power
A compulsion to dig deep and to cling only to what is essential, in moving forward, ignoring all else.
Communicating

Matters of nurturing and care, in particular for your environment (friends, family, loved ones) have reached a plateau and should not be pushed farther. Wrap things up, attend to the details, and put the finishing touches on whatever has been achieved.

At the same time, this could be followed by signs that some change is necessary on your part, in particular, as to not pushing so hard in these areas, and, instead, just letting things come to you.

Caring For

You may find yourself scrambling to pull together and save whatever you can regarding what you really value - love for family, younger people, the public, or the past, in general. A situation is in transition and you should save what you can of what remains of a better or fuller time. Keep hold of the best.

Public Sentiment

This could be a turning point regarding your life values, concern and love of your family, younger persons, and your past, in general. You may well find yourself letting go of more personal connections and taking a more impersonal or equal-minded point of view, sort of embracing a larger view of things. You take things less personally.

Patient Merit

A time when your concern for the truth, to get down to the nitty-gritty, and perhaps to be more economical, is strong, and you have the energy and the desire to make these qualities a greater part of your life. At the same time, your could feel that these plans are threatened or weakened by all manner of nicks and bruises caused by distractions that take away from your general resolve to make things different. Impediment

Here is a time, not without its challenges, where you find yourself taking a more disciplined appraisal (a tough look) at some project or area of your life, in particular as relates to your values and integrity.
